Under "General Miscellaneous" very petty matters go up to the Dewan for orders as under the existing practice Secretary Concerned cannot deal with them finally.

Under the new Scheme of delegating to Members of Council, powers of disposing of routine matters pertaining to the departments in charge of the Dewan, many subjects coming under "General Miscellaneous" may be sent up to the Member Specified for orders.

Accordingly two lists are put up for consideration & orders: The first contains subjects which may be left to the Member of Council Specified, the important, difficult & delicate ones being also submitted to the Dewan under the existing rules; and the second list Specifies the subjects to be directly submitted to the Dewan.

In connection with the arrangement recently sanctioned by His Highness for the disposal by the First and Second Members of Council of certain classes of cases relating to the Departments belonging to the Dewan's portfolio, I beg to state that there are certain other matters which, though of a routine character, are, under the existing practice, submitted to the Dewan for orders for want of authoritative instructions to the contrary. I refer to some kinds of cases coming under the category of what is termed "General Miscellaneous" in the classification of work in the General and Revenue Secretariat.

2. These cases relate roughly to one or other of the 46 subjects mentioned in the two lists herewith submitted. With the exception of the more important of such matters which are included in List II and which will continue to be sent up to the Dewan, it is proposed to delegate the power of disposing of papers bearing upon the remaining 36 subjects appearing in List I to the Members of Council - the first 18 to the First Member of Council and the others to the Second Member.
